

POCKET in RED

Pocket in Red is an electro, indie, pop-rock trio from Brussels, Belgium, known for the powerful shows that they deliver. After years of gigging and touring, they just released their debut self-titled EP. They have toured alongside Craig Walker (Archive, Mineral) for two years. With Craig, they have played open-air festivals, sharing the stage with bands like Dead Can Dance, The Monophonics, etc. From April 2018 on, they will be touring Europe promoting their new EP.

They said about Pocket in Red's music:

"Pocket in Red deal in the kind of electronic rock that made Depeche Mode superstars. The band's songwriting is melodic but retains a melancholic edge that keeps the music from straying into more commercial pop territories. Definitely a band to keep an eye on."

- Marcus Carter. Radio Andra (Sweden)

"Do yourself a favour and sample some of their music right now. Pocket in Red are definitely alternative pop-rock; their songs are very catchy. That being said, to add the word "pop" would be a disservice to the band. Their sound is so large, and their music is so intricate that it's hard to lump them into the pop category. Extremely talented musicians."

- Dustin Dellinger. Gashouse Radio (USA)

"This band is exceptional. Solid, melodic sound, with a well-hidden rock mood that never overcomes the pop feel and melody. I felt sad, I smiled, I turned the volume up, i memorised the words, I let it play on the repeat. And that's what matters. It's all about awakening feelings"

- John Kouloukakos. Troll Radio (Greece)

"Pocket in Red's music is outstanding. I feel Pocket in Red is a band that is going places."

- Dave MacArthur. Pirate Radio (USA)
